

Bob Meddles

The Comic Next Door

After more than 12 years working as a newspaper editor and freelance writer, Bob brings his comedic take on contemporary culture, relationships and life in general, to the stage. He is the founder of the Slap the Stupid People campaign, with tens of thousands of Facebook fans all across the country. His comedy appeals to a wide range of audiences, and he is the winningest coach in foosball history. From blue-collar bars to country clubs, young, old and everyone in between can relate to Bob's take on life and lunacy.

Ever wonder why razors have five blades?
Why monks brew beer?
Why alcohol is important to comedy?
What makes corn dogs nature's perfect food?

Bob will unravel those mysteries and others.
